A PANEL DISCUSSION ON TRANSPHOBIA AND MISOGYNY,
an exciting panel discussion on irrational fear of transgender individuals and hatred of women and its various forms and effects within the Black LGBT community and the community-at-large. This discussion will be interactive between panelists and audience members. Panelists are not deemed to be experts, but a sample of voices from the Black LGBT community who will give their thoughts on the topics and foster discussion and an exchange of ideas with the attending audience. This event will be held at Atlanta's premier tea bar The House of IntegriTEA.

CHANGE IS POSSIBLE
Phyre is honoring and remembering African-American Women and Men, throughout American history, who are Lesbian, Gay, Transgender, or Bisexual who too have shaped the American mosaic through their contributions in politics, social justice, film, art, music, dance, religion, and literature.

WHITE HOT!
Fashion mavens for ages have marked Labor Day as the end of the summer season, the last day to wear white. But whether it calls for a last-days-of-summer tank top, an almost-fall sweater, or a whole lot less, Labor Day Weekend in Atlanta is always WHITE HOT!

AND Me
Come ready to share your point of view on this issue, to listen and to be enlightened.
Is there a middle ground between religion and sexuality?
Are we damned to hell?
If I pray hard enough, can God make me straight
Should I believe everything my preacher says?
This and so much more.
Don't forget your potluck dish.
